

MEDIA GROUP

We are your high-performance boutique media house.
With a combined over 2 decades of experience in the film and firearms industries, our team is equipped to offer a wide array of media and marketing solutions.

At ANVL Media Group we value excellence, precision, and customer service.

Target Focus

We deliver top-tier content creation and marketing solutions, that elevate your brand and drive results, no matter the size of your business.

We bridge the gap between your business and your ideal customer, increasing brand awareness and customer engagement. Stand out in today's dynamic media environment with style, creativity, and compelling storytelling that deliver results.

Content Creation

Compelling high-quality content is essential for building a strong connection with your audience. Drawing on our experience in the film industry, we collaborate with top creatives and leverage cutting-edge camera technology to deliver bold, cinematic visuals. From photos and instagram reels to full-length documentaries, we ensure that every frame matters!

Social Media Management

We craft engaging social media strategies, focused on building brand loyalty and driving high conversion rates. Even when dealing with sensitive subjects like firearms, we ensure precision and expertise.

Marketing Campaigns

We understand the time and resources required to bring a marketing campaign to life. Strong campaigns are essential tools for launching new products, managing major collaborations or executing successful events.

We ensure your hard work is seen by the right audience, maximizing its value for your customers.

Affiliate Management | Consulting & Training

Maximize your brand's growth and instantly increase value by partnering strategically with established companies and influencers. We also provide training to your in-house team, building a self-sustainable and profitable affiliate marketing program.

Amazon Management | Consulting & Training

E-commerce, similar to social media management, presents significant challenges for many businesses. Setting up and operating an online store, particularly for specific product categories, can be daunting.

We create and optimize sales channels, and provide training to ensure smooth operations. Some of our clients have seen a 50% increase in sales simply by implementing a well-structured Amazon store.

The Team

Renan de Araujo

Creative Director/Cinematographer

Maker by nature and passionate for cameras and firearms, Renan found his way to merge them and help people to achieve their vision. The fascination for technology, art and problem solving made him a successful cinematographer in New England, working with big brands on commercials, documentaries and corporate films.

After a decade on the film industry, ANVL Media Group was born, with the desire of bringing quality, style and efficiency to the defense industry, elevating the bar for advertising and content creation.

Father of two beautiful girls and married with a dietitian, food and fitness are for sure a big part of his life.

Tiberious Giblin

Marketing Director/Content Creator

Tiberious is a regular guy who enjoys pulling the trigger and eating gummy bears. He is a passionate firearms industry professional with over 20 years in retail management, including the last decade as a Sales & Marketing Director and Business Development Executive. With expertise in social media management, affiliate marketing, Amazon management, email marketing and content creation, Tiberious thrives on crafting effective marketing campaigns that resonate with audiences.

Beyond his professional pursuits, Tiberious shares his insights and experiences on his YouTube and Instagram pages, Tiberious Gib. He offers relatable and honest product reviews with a positive approach and a dedication to transparency. When he's not working, Tiberious enjoys fishing, soaking up the sun at the beach, loving all dogs, and spending quality time with his wife and kids.
